

IT'S TIME FOR AN AUSTRALIAN SUPERHERO

THE IRON OUTLAW

BRAD WEBB

ALI ABED

Thomas Gunn thought he was just another ponderous twenty-two year old university student until one night, while assisting at the State Library of Victoria, he decides to don the famous armour of Ned Kelly. Struck by a massive psychic blast he awakes dazed and confused to discover Australia's most prized possession has vanished. Valued at over one hundred million dollars, Tom is accused of theft and is now on the run. Cornered at a train station he makes a break across the tracks and gets hit by a sixty carriage freight train. The train derails but Tom escapes! Seems the armour wasn't stolen. Instead it was assimilated into his DNA. At times of peril his newly awakened abilities allow Ned Kelly's armour to manifest. Once formed it creates an impregnable psychokinetic shield which grants Tom incredible strength.

But for every action, there is an equal and opposite reaction... In central Australia, an ancient evil stirs under the weight of its primordial tomb, Uluru. Cracks have appeared in its prison thanks to secret British nuclear tests in the 1950s. Buried for over forty millennia, this obliterator of human life now has a new food source – seven and a half billion of them! Can Tom Gunn come to terms with his new found powers in time to discover a way to defeat the impending Darkness?
